SUMMARY

As a dedicated Registered Medical Technologist and International Medical Laboratory Scientist, I am eager to join a professional healthcare setting where I can utilize my extensive academic background and hands-on experience to enhance laboratory operations and diagnostic precision. My commitment to patient care is matched by my drive to continually refine my skills, master diverse methodologies, and stay well-informed of the latest advancements in medical technology. Eager to contribute knowledge, precision, and a strong work ethic to support accurate diagnoses and quality patient care.
